KEY FEATURE Oversized window

If ever a glazed opening could be described as a 'window on the world', this huge design is it. Lined with wood to create an inside-out feel and set into a deep alcove, the window takes up much of the wall space. Cleverly, however, the double-height ceiling makes it seem perfectly in proportion. Rebecca Clayton of IQ Glass (iqglassuk.com) says, 'The best way to get a sleek finish like this is to use structural frameless glass fixed within internal timber reveals.' Expect to pay around £3,000 for a similar design.
